BIO

The Oracle of Lofi is an independent collective of artists fusing dark themes with beautiful artistic noise, crafting haunting melodies and provocative storytelling that transcend genre boundaries through raw emotional rebellion.

Rooted in horror, dark post-punk, and outlaw country, The Oracle of Lofi channels the spirit of the underground music scene, blending punk rock, indie folk, and beyond. Their sound draws influence from The Pixies, The Cramps, and Johnny Cash—both nostalgic and forward-thinking, a bridge between past and future sonic landscapes.

As a fluid collective, The Oracle of Lofi features a rotating lineup of lifelong friends and fresh faces from many past influential projects, coming together to seamlessly weave in and out of songs and performances like a silken tapestry floating on the wind of a dream. The latest album and upcoming shows include the talents of 29 Graves (The Lou Reeds, Wooden Man Records), Judi Lee, Tyler Watkins (Margot and the Nuclear So and So's, Postal Recording), Jesse Lee (Margot and the Nuclear So and So's, Pravada), Ryan Roberts (The Common), and more.

Recorded at the legendary Postal Recording Studio, their highly anticipated self-titled debut album encapsulates the band's signature fusion of horror-laced storytelling and sonic chaos. They are more than music—The Oracle of Lofi is a journey into the unknown, an exploration of rebellion, chaos, and dark spirituality wrapped in the raw energy of an ever-evolving supergroup.

“The Oracle of Lofi is the breath of fresh ether this world desperately needs in a painful sea full of today’s musical monotony.”

The Oracle of Lofi Experience

The realm of The Oracle of Lofi was born from the depths of indie spirit. Our band merges influences from indie folk, metal, outlaw country, punk, surf rock, and more into a sonic tapestry that defies conventional boundaries.

Immersed in the worlds of horror films, amoral paganism, mythic archetypes, and the enduring pull of The Old Gods, we draw from Southern Gothic aesthetics and the energies of all realms—seen and unseen, living and dead.

Our music is a dynamic journey, ranging from stripped-down acoustic ballads that stir the soul to electrifying, multi-member performances that promise to melt your face.

Join us as we navigate shifting soundscapes, summoning melodies that resonate with the wild, the untamed, and the unapologetically authentic. Welcome to The Oracle of Lofi experience—where boundaries blur.
